RELATION OF JESUS CHRIST TO PEOPLE STANDING ON THE FRINGE OF SOCIETY ON THE BASIS OF GOSPEL'S TESTIMONIES

I have directed my study to the subject which is in fact included in the whole public activity of Jesus Christ. Jesus Christ approached all people standing on the fringe of the ancient society equally with love, justice and considerateness. He made no difference among various groups of people mentioned in this study. He did not prefer one group, on the contrary he used love, mercy, empathy, above all. All these people he protected and he cured their body and soul. As I already mentioned in my introduction, I wish with this study also to bring optimism to all those who are in difficult and complicated life situations and have a heavy burden in life. They should not rely upon themselves and their surroundings, on others, on secular support or assistance only, but they should rely through their conversion upon Son of God – Jesus. The teaching of Jesus Christ and his followers – disciples should be a great inspiration to all Christian churches acting in our present society in these days.
